

Houseplant Care

Water plants thoroughly when the soil begins to dry out. Then let the plant drain for 5 minutes before placing it back in its favorite spot. Most houseplants will require watering every 2 or 3 days depending on how hot and dry it is. Take extra caution with ferns. They do not like to have dry soil.

Most houseplants prefer bright, filtered light. Place them in a well lit room, but avoid placing them in the direct sun. Ferns prefer moderate to low light.
